

SHIPPING AMMO & FIREARMS

SELLER RESOURCES

At Proxibid, we take pride in offering the most trusted online Marketplace for buying and selling highly valued items like firearms and ammunition. To ensure your business is not at risk of violating federal regulations regarding the shipment of firearms and ammunition, please be reminded of the following:

Firearms

Federal firearms regulations require that all modern firearms be shipped to a holder of a valid Federal Firearms License (FFL) only. The recipient must have an FFL; however the sender is not required to have one. Any person who is legally permitted to own a firearm is legally allowed to ship it to an FFL holder for any legal purpose, including sale or resale.

Ammunition

Ammunition must be shipped separately from packages that contain firearms, including handguns, must be clearly labeled as hazardous goods, and must be shipped via ground, in compliance with federal regulations.

Proxibid recommends that you read the Post Office regulations on Other Restricted or Nonmailable Matter before shipping firearms or ammunition through the US Mail or any other carrier. Additional information may be found by reviewing the Federal Firearms Regulations Reference Guide.

Following these simple regulations will ensure your business is safe when transacting in the Proxibid Marketplace. If you have questions about this communication, or if you need additional information, please contact our Risk Department.